Explanation of complaint between customer and invention promoter:

On 5/31/05, this Inventor was contacted by US mail that American Ingenuity, LLC was interested in the development and marketing of this US patent holders patent no. 6, 879,818. On July 27, 2005, a notarized contract was signed by both parties. A pre-payment was made in the amount of $ 11,700.00 to American Ingenuity for the completion of Scope A of said contract to include the product design, one prototype, and product tooling services. The design and one prototype service was to take four months to complete. As the services were not completed, this customer was notified by letter dated January 20, 2006, that a refund would be forwarded this customer in the amount of a full refund of $ 11,700.00. On February 9, 2006, this customer received written notice that $ 7,500.00 was to be refunded with the remaining balance due of $4,200.00 to be refunded as, "we deem convenient." On May 15, 2006, this customer was informed in writing that the $ 4,200.00 refund would be returned pending this customer would sign a release. This customer did not sign said release prior to any receipt of the refund check to avoid American Ingenuities failure to then make the refund payment. To date, no refund has been forwarded this customer as was to have been made by American Ingenuity for those contractual services not received by this customer.
